PROJECTS

Mail-Box-Client

🔗 <https://github.com/HimanshuDeveloperr/mail-box.git>

A responsive and friendly mail-box where you could compose, send, and receive emails official and unofficial from your friends, families, and colleagues.

- Implemented real-time fetching and display of emails with a two-second refresh rate, enhancing the mail-box experience for users
- Enabled seamless email sending and composition functionality within the application, providing users with a comprehensive email management solution
- It uses firebase authentication and its database for maintaining users data and his security, which gives 100% security rate to my mail-box

Netflix-clone

🔗 https://github.com/HimanshuDeveloperr/netflix_replica.git

Build a clone of Netflix which is a 100% replication of its original giving login and smooth scroll to my website with using only sass for the styling no other css libraries. .

- Utilized Axios to fetch data from an open API and dynamically rendered and displayed a list of movies. For now which only renders a 50% of movies from the API to which makes sure that the scroll is finite

Weather-App

🔗 <https://github.com/HimanshuDeveloperr/weather-app>

Built a responsive weather app where users could search the weather of their desired places with a 100% dynamic changing background according to the temperature of that place .

- Integrated the open weather API to fetch and showcase real-time weather data
- Given a unit conversion functionality where users could change and see the temperature in both fahrenheit and celsius
